DETAILED ACTION

1. The indicated allowability of claims 14, 15, 17 and 18 is withdrawn in view of the reference to Hara et al.(US Patent 6,141,863). Rejections based on the reference follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 13 recites the limitation "the at least one joint" in lines 2-3. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

5. Claims 12, 14, 15, 17 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hara et al. (US Patent 6,141,863).

With regards to claims 12, 14, 15 and 18, Hara et al. discloses a method of disposing substrates in a housing, the method comprising appropriately projecting a laser line onto a side of two substrates (71, 72), verifying an alignment of the at least two substrates from a viewing source (monitor display MO) and stuffing the two substrates in the housing, see column 3, lines 2-16 and column 4, lines 33-67 and column 5, lines 43-50. Applicant should note that the monitor display could be positioned at any angle, including 40° to about 50°, relative to the laser line generator.

With regards to claim 17, Applicant should note that the method of Hara et al. could be used with two substrates comprising a non-cylindrical geometry.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hara et al.

Hara et al. discloses a method of disposing a substrate in a housing as shown above including appropriately projecting a laser line onto a side of the substrates.

Although Hara et al. does not specifically disclose the laser line being perpendicular to at least one joint of the two substrates, however it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made that having the laser line projected onto the side of the two substrates to be perpendicular to a joint of the two substrates is an obvious matter of design choice wherein no stated problem is solved or unexpected results obtained in having the laser be perpendicular to the joint versus the method taught by Hara et al., as long as the laser line is appropriately projected onto the side of the two substrates. Furthermore the laser line in the method of Hara could be perpendicular to the joint of the two substrates depending on the orientation of the two substrates when the laser line is projected, see figure 4.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 1-10, 19 and 20 are allowed.
